

Those Who Believe They Are GREAT -- Might Aught To Try First For "Pretty Good!"

Do the radical liberals in America realize that they are considered as wannabe "elitists" by almost any category of citizens that you can name?

You know the problem with that question? They not only KNOW they are considered as wannabe elitists -- they are proud of it!

Where does pride originate? In the mind of the beholder. They want to be something special -- so they imagine they are something special. And they want to get that over to you and everyone else who considers them as matter. . . that matters.

Most so-called entertainers along with large numbers of the "mass media" are guilty of elitism to a degree that their main stomping grounds (Hollywood and "New York City") -- to the average American citizen -- have become meccas of methodical hypocrisy that intentionally and invariably separates them from the average real American!

If you will think about it, that is what "elitism" is all about. It sets you apart (in your mind) in a way that makes you important and special. The REAL trouble with that is -- it is, indeed only in your OWN mind. Vanity dominates.

That is a waste of humanity (including both effort and value) that shames our country. For humans to believe that they are not only "special," but they are on a level with (or above) God Almighty -- is mostly dangerous for them (in the long run), but it has little or no value for the rest of us, during our appointed times.

Hollywood, per se, is about as valuable to America as a broom to a vacuum-cleaner salesman. But, they "don't get it!" And, because of the nature of their peculiar-type of "business," they never SHALL -- "get-it!:" Vanity dominates!

In the realm of humans, "importance" is very likely in the mind-of-the-beholder. . . period!

Pride may go before a fall, but stupidity outdoes all the rest in the arena of life and infallibility. Life itself is short for mankind, but too many have a false-belief that they should be OMNIPOTENT. . . never-mind, they haven't even yet reached "immortal!" Ah, vanity!

WHY DO HOLLYWOOD AND NEW YORK CITY tend to impress the impressionable? BECAUSE. . . HUMANITY and VANITY LOOK so good together!

LIBERAL DEMOCRATS WANTED THEIR SOCIALISTIC "PARTY" WAYS TO LAST FOREVER! THE PEOPLE SAID "NO!"

Stubborn liberal democrats would do well to wake-up from their long sleep and finally realize that the old "Yeller Dog" democrat party of yesteryear, is just that -- GONE!

We see liberal democrats come and go today who look as though they would dearly love to see those "beautiful" days of theirs -- that they thought would go on forever -- do just that.

Ain't gonna happen! At least not unless The People of the United States lose their collective marbles and allow closed-minds and street mobs to once again rule this nation.

It is encouraging along these lines that the average common everyday working man and woman citizen will not allow themselves to be caught up in the hysteria of the pathetic products of a nation under social siege.

The hysterics supplied in our day come from the elitists who believe that they are somehow "above" the rest of us in the realm of intelligence and mind-control.

Their "intelligence" is shown lacking every time they show up anywhere, and if their minds are indeed under their control, then we want no part of their attitudes or their lack of logical deliberation.

For the democrats to make the kind of "comeback" that they would prefer would require a bunch of rebirth from quite a few funerals that have happened during the past 20 or 30 years of time.

On top of that, The People have had enough political manipulation that they have come out from their respective shells, and are today looking a whole lot more like those of yesteryear when the average political American did not trust those who were all for themselves.

The old democrat party machine gave the people the notion that it was looking out for them. They saw to it that unions, Mexicans, Blacks and schoolmarms got what they thought they wanted, and the party got their numbers!

The concept "worked" for a good, long time, and finally, The People woke up to the fact that they had been HAD! Big time! By politicians who had grown to expect the numbers to be "grateful" and for it to show famously-- AT THE POLLS! It did, for too long.

The People have finally gotten around to saying an emphatic "NO!" to the harshly-liberal unions that have been in control of your child's education for the past four or five decades.

The hardcore members of those radical unions will argue to this day that they were doing the right thing. They had member schoolteachers that were doing the right thing, but most of them were intimidated by the power of the unions with regard to the State Legislature -- and they acquiesced in favor of being quiet and personally benefitting from the power surge.

They will argue that there are and have been "good" schoolteachers all along. This column has also argued that we have had good schoolteachers all along. The trouble has been (all along) that we did not have a majority of those "good" schoolteachers mentioned, and our school systems (and children) have taken the hindmost while the union members have enjoyed their bounty.

As in political parties in America, most of the time, the most effective improver in such things remains being a few good funerals. No one can deny it because it is purely a matter of fact. When things are generally bad for one reason or another -- new blood and new ideas are usually the better solution to the problem. It doesn't hurt to know American history as well.

Americans have (hopefully) learned -- the hard way -- that our education system MUST be controlled by those who are basically and even totally interested in (dedicated to) children and students, and logical SMARTS!

The vested interests in the education of children should be from those who want the best possible "education" for those children. To allow a gathering of self-interested individuals to organize and control "for their OWN good," is most assuredly a dangerous concept -- and we have certainly proven that fact over the past half century. We should not allow our children to be pawns -- EVER!
